

Lauren Chang is a photographer based in Los Angeles, California.

Lauren inherited her appreciation for the visual arts from her father, an avid amateur photographer.

While attending California State University, Fullerton, Lauren got her first serious camera—a used Canon AE-1—and began taking photos wherever she went.

Now holding a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in illustration from Fullerton, Lauren knows that photography is her true calling. She works semi-professionally, maintaining a demanding day job while building a growing body of work in portraiture and fashion with exotic flair and fine art elegance.

Experience

Christmas family portraits/Christmas cards

Christmas party photographer

Scott August CD insert

Scott Manley website – www.scottmanleydrums.com

Headshots and portraits

Wedding photography

Education

UCLA Extension

Portraiture, Donald Graham

Photographic Lighting Techniques I, Kevin Merrell

California State University, Fullerton

Bachelor of Fine Arts